FOREWORD

*"I am a part of all that I have met;
Yet all experience is an arch wherethrough
Gleams that untraveled world whose margin fades
Forever and forever when I move.
How dull it is to pause, to make an end,
To rust unburnished, not to shine in use!"*

Ulysses—Alfred, Lord Tennyson

The horizon is the limit of one's thinking power, experience, and outlook. The horizon of Encinal High School students, however, shows a capacity for expansion. The past has provided ideas and experiences as a guide to follow in further explorations. Now is the time for each individual to determine his potentialities and to develop self-direction. How he is to encounter the future depends upon how he builds his outlook and increases his scope.

New challenges have arisen because of the growing interest in education. All of us are becoming more aware of the need to correlate world friendship with world power. This year, we at Encinal had the opportunity to discover, through the presence of a foreign exchange student, some of the ways of life in other nations.

Having raised funds and secured a home for a foreign exchange student, the Encinal High School student body met the requirements of the American Field Service. Mary Appleyard of Kent, England, came to Encinal to graduate with the class of June, '59. With Mary's pleasing personality and serious attitude toward promoting better relations between teenagers of this country and teenagers in other countries, Encinal's student body has shared a worthwhile experience of international understanding in a world of broadening horizons.

In the past, the yearbook staffs have presented the achievements of the students in all phases of school life. The Horizon staff of June, 1959 wishes to emphasize the achievements of the students as a basis for striving toward new horizons to meet the challenge of this space age. The staff presents the theme EXPANDING HORIZONS in the hope that students will think of their experience at Encinal as an opportunity to widen their scope of the world.

DEDICATION

Appointed principal of Encinal High School on July 1, 1953, Mr. Lowell W. Mell has earned the high esteem and deep respect of faculty and students alike. He has contributed to the maturity of Encinal from the start through his enthusiasm for all phases of school life: the curriculum, physical plant, and extra curricular activities. More than an able administrator, he has encouraged us to show our pride in Encinal, enabling us to meet the challenges of the future.

The 1959 Horizon is dedicated to Mr. Mell in recognition of all that he has given. The staff, on behalf of the student body, hopes that the measure of Mr. Mell's success and happiness in his new venture will equal the horizons which he has opened for us.

1959 HORIZON

Out of chaos, from planning the "dummy" blueprint to realizing the finished product, comes our 1959 HORIZON. The editorial staff, under the guidance of Miss Marilyn Hey, and the business staff, supervised by Mr. Clarence Kline, have created this book as a product of their ingenuity and self-expression.

Each editor is responsible for his own section, planning the lay-out for the pictures and writing the copy to illuminate the section in correspondence with the theme. The art editor conceives original designs for the cover and the division pages. Another editor, not responsible for a section but with an equally arduous job is the copy editor, whose approval is needed on all copy before it is sent to the printer.

The business staff secures funds through advertisements for the various expenses of producing a yearbook.

To an observer the yearbook room seems to be full of a mass of people running hectically around trying to finish last week's work. Amidst this, even the members of the staff are astonished to find that a yearbook has been completed, but the staff is proud to present this annual to the students of Encinal High School with the optimism that "out of the mud grows the lotus."

ADMINISTRATION

Guiding us in the expansion of our horizons of knowledge is the Encinal High School faculty and administration. They are the major force which influences us and inspires us to think for ourselves and to prepare for college or a vocation. Throughout history, teachers have transmitted to their students not only knowledge and skills but also an awareness of their heritage, which is deepened and widened as the years pass. The teacher can instill the idea of individual worth in his students to give them a basis upon which to develop and expand their personal horizons.

Dr. Roderick Observes Expansion of Community

Dr. Donald M. Roderick, in his seventh year as Superintendent of Alameda Schools, has observed and been a part of the expansion and growth of our community. Having been vice-principal of Alameda High, principal of Mastick, and then principal of Porter School, he then achieved the position of assistant superintendent. After eight years of serving his community as assistant superintendent, he became our superintendent of schools.

During this time as superintendent, Dr. Roderick has seen five building projects, including the construction of Paden School and our own Encinal High School, expand our community's schools.

Another project in the South Shore development, the Donald D. Lum Elementary School, is planned. This is to be a new conception—an integration of school and community developed by the city and school districts.

With the appointed Board of Education, headed by Donald D. Lum, President; A. H. Moffitt, Jr., Vice-President; Mrs. Lee H. Cavanaugh; Mr. Walter V. Howe; and Stuart Stephens, M.D., Dr. Roderick has charge of 412 teachers and administrators, 100 adult school teachers, and 125 service personnel.

Since Dr. Roderick has been superintendent, great improvement has been made in development of the many phases of the instruction program. With "modernization" the theme in our fast-growing times, the future holds unlimited horizons for the growth of our community, school and education programs.

Mr. Mell Stresses Meaning and Direction

Oliver Wendell Holmes once said, "The great thing in the world is not so much where we stand as in what direction we are moving."

Since the theme of our 1959 Yearbook is "Expanding Horizons," the words of Mr. Holmes greet us with new significance as we see the once distant horizons of scientific experiments approach the reality of everyday achievement. Man's leap to the moon and beyond is near. But whether man lives on the earth, the moon, an artificial planet, or a space platform, he can no more live by science alone than by bread alone. Wherever he dwells he will have to live with himself and with other people.

Man's new horizons lie not only in the stratosphere but in the spirit. The scientific age needs scientific and technical personnel, to be sure; but above all it needs finer and better persons. This means becoming disciplined and responsible for ourselves as well as in our relations with others, to keep growing and developing our real competence as persons through pursuit of moral and spiritual values.

The future calls for men and women with a spirit of inquiry. It calls for young people who are learning the art of identifying, nurturing and wisely using their talents. It calls for achievement through individual efforts toward worthwhile goals.

Life must have substance, direction, meaning, and objectivity as indicated in the Rockefeller Report on Education: "What most people want—young and old—is not merely security, or comfort, or luxury. Most of all they want meaning in their lives."

The scientific age brings not only new problems for mankind but also a new urgency to get on with the unfinished business of finding both "direction" and "meaning" for himself in his expanding Horizons.

The high school experiences and education of our graduates will be a firm foundation upon which they may build meaning in their lives and give purposeful direction to their future living. Our love and best wishes go with you.

I wish to extend my personal thanks and heartfelt appreciation to Ron Teilh and Valerie Lockhart, editors; Janet Seymour and Jeanne Stull, business managers; their staffs; and to Miss Marilyn Hey and Mr. Clarence Kline, editorial and business advisers, for their many hours of hard work and devoted efforts. They have delightfully captured the spirit of Encinal High School through prose and pictures of the myriad activities of our students, faculty, and staff in this time-capsule of the "Horizon" we reached in 1959.

Department System Enables Students To Major In A Particular Course Of Study

When Encinal High opened in the fall of 1952, the school acquired the services of 13 young teachers. These teachers today form the core of a faculty that has proven to be admirably flexible and efficient. Guided by a capable administration, the teachers of Encinal have succeeded in bringing their students fine instruction in various subjects. Since the courses are divided into departments such as English, history, art, music, mathematics, science, and shops, it has become possible for students to major in one or more of these many fields. By using this system, it is the hope of the faculty that all students will receive adequate training towards their later endeavors.

Counselors Aid Students In Choosing Field Of Endeavor

Coupled with the system of departments, there has been instituted at Encinal a capable counseling program to attain three major objectives. First, the counselors administer to newly arrived students a number of interviews and examinations. In this way a student's specific interests and capabilities are determined. He is then programmed into the courses that will benefit him to the greatest degree. The counseling staff provides a place where students can obtain assistance in such matters as study habits, program changes and personal problems. Finally, the counselors have been instrumental in helping the graduating seniors select the type of education or employment that will suit them best in the years immediately after high school. This counseling program has so far proven successful, and there are many students who maintain that the counselors have been an important factor in their success at Encinal.

SENIORS

Standing on the threshold of the future, it is appropriate that we weigh the values of the past. As Seniors, we are concerned with our future. It may be unmatched or unstable; it is entirely our making. To our desired end, let us review our past that we may profit by it in the future.

A Class Prepares To Take Its Place

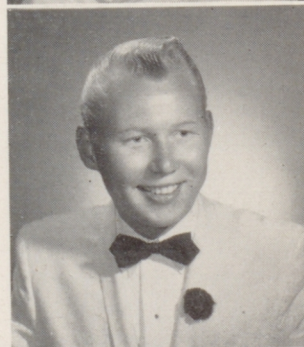

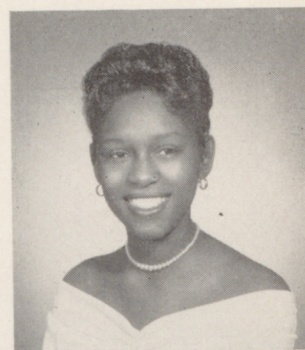

For a four-year period the nations of the world fought over nationalism and pride—World War I. For a four-year period the nations of the world fought to wipe out the atrocities of a madman and of a land-starved nation—World War II. Yet in a comparable length of time the class of June 1959, under the instruction and guidance of the Encinal High School faculty and the dictates of its own conscience, grew up in a world where it learned the necessity of the intelligent mind and sound reasoning. It lived through many experiences, cultural and social, and asserted itself in many ways.

It lived through a bomb scare and an earthquake; it watched the Russians and the United States launch satellites into the sky; and it observed the Giants' move to the city by the Golden Gate. Upon its honor roll of accomplishments can be found ribbon, candy, cake, and paper sales; class dues; a Soph Hop; a Junior Prom; and a Senior play, all which were designed to increase the class treasury and give its members a chance to participate. At the same time it enjoyed Junior pins, Junior sweaters, and Senior rings. To climax four years, as High Seniors the girls purchased brown blazers and the boys, blue Senior jackets.

Class discussion, homework, notebooks, and exams as well as dances, sales, clubs, and other activities helped to form a busy four years. The academic and social forces during those four years provided memories that will last as long as does the class.

4B PLAY PROVES HUGE SUCCESS

"Father of the Bride," directed by Mr. Cotter, who was assisted by Jackie Tompkins, student director, and Ginny Montgomery, prompter, revolves around the trouble a father has in planning his daughter's wedding. This trouble runs the scale from "flat silver and linens" through an unforgettable experience with a persuasive French caterer in which Mr. and Mrs. Banks learn that "everything must go!" Though there are darker moments between the loving couple, Kay and Buckley, Father manages to come from behind in the end to save the day.

On the nights of November 13 and 14, records were broken in all ways. The class of June 1959 produced a play featuring the costliest and most artistic set seen at Encinal High School. This set featured a grand piano, which disappeared in the third act, setting another precedent in theatre at Encinal. This play gave the "59'ers" the largest net income any class ever received from a Senior play. Finally, it found the largest Friday night attendance ever recorded for a Senior play. However, more is remembered than statistics alone about plays, and the actors and actresses will be forever remembered for their outstanding performances.

A DAY IN OF A

"Do you remember . . . ?" These are the words of a nostalgic senior the last week of school as his mind slips back to those pleasant memories that made up his last year in school. What Senior physics student will forget Col. Long's experiment with his only answer for failure being, "As you were!" What Senior math student will forget the courage Mr. Allione showed when he said, "I'm going to flunk that class" (and did)? What Senior problems or civics student will forget Mr. Winberg's famed 50-minute lectures? These are a few of the happenings that Seniors will remember about their final year in high school.

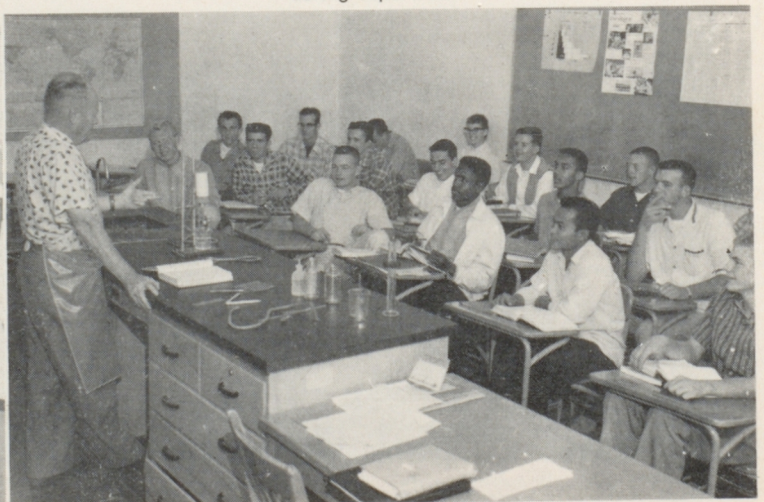

8:59 A.M. — "Now let's see . . ."

2nd Period — Seniors at work reviewing the fundamentals of math.

5th Period — Senior Physics students giving moral support to Col. Long during experiment.

BIG THINGS COME IN SMALL PACKAGES

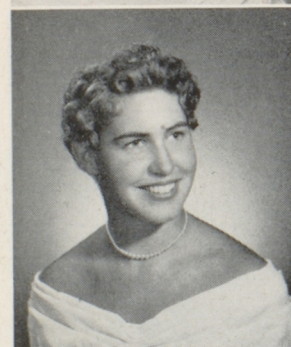

From the time they entered Encinal High, the class of January 1960 has fought the jinx that faces every mid-term class—smallness in number. From its freshman year it has always obtained 100% in student body card sales early in the campaign. Its sophomore term was highlighted by pom-pom sales and the Soph Hop, "On the Riviera." Its Junior Prom, "Cafe de la Paix," was the center of its Junior year. The prom was co-sponsored with the class of June 1959. As low Seniors, the class purchased rings and presented its Senior play entitled "The Fighting Littles." Its number has fallen from 60 as incoming freshmen to 33 at the conclusion of its low Senior term. Its record, however, has been rising consistently to give this class the fine reputation it holds within the school.

"Fighting Littles" Presented By Low Senior Class

"The Fighting Littles," produced by the class of January 1960, was written by Carolyn Francke. The story finds Daddy Little accusing all his daughter's friends of being "young hoodlums" and Ham Ellers the "worst young hoodlum of the lot." Through three acts the quick-tempered Littles squabble their way through differences in opinion and ridiculous situations without even knowing they are. The end result of this chaos is understanding and unity.

Mr. Cotter, director, announced the following as leads for the play: Roger Genereux, Mr. Little; Daphne Robinson, Mrs. Little; Goody, Karen Snyder; and Don Scott, Ham Ellers. Jeanine Valley was selected to be student director and for the first time a Senior Play set had a student set designer, Carl Hallford. Diligence and effort were displayed by all of them as well as by the rest of the cast, crew and committees working to meet the curtain time, 8:15 P.M., April 9th.

"... dob bob, dab blab ... hoodium!"

Carl Hallford, set designer, confers with Jeanine Valley, student director, about the set for the Senior play, "The Fighting Littles."

A Night To Remember Highlights Juniors' Year

Couples danced in a flowery atmosphere of spring at the Junior Prom, "A Night to Remember." Adorned with roses, a flowing fountain served as centerpiece. High fidelity music was provided for the dancers, who entered the disguised gymnasium through an arch of blooms.

Choosing their junior sweaters was a long awaited event for the class of June 1960. White sweaters with black trimming were chosen by the girls, while the boys selected black sweaters with white detail.

2A's Revive Noon Dances

Having been discontinued for a year, noon dances were revived successfully by the class of February 1961. Under the direction of their sponsor, Mr. George Reeves, this class of only forty-six students planned and held two such dances, resulting in a welcomed gain in their treasury.

This final mid-term graduating class is looking forward to its future years at Encinal High School with great expectations.

CAMPUS LIFE

We alone can determine the extent of our horizon. As individuals we must be capable of accepting or rejecting the factors which will affect our destinies. Each day, we encounter opportunities in exuberant numbers. The selection—which we alone can determine, using our abilities and interests as a criterion—should include such opportunities that we may amplify the scope of our minds and expand our horizon.

STUDENT LIFE AT E.H.S.

At Encinal High, students are afforded the opportunity to amplify their horizon in numerous ways. Academic and social functions provide a variety of activities for the students.

Certain academic requirements are provided for students; yet, they have the opportunity to select elective courses. The courses allotted them cover the various degrees of skill possessed by each student.

In order to complete student life, dances, sports, and sales bring about a completely different atmosphere. The cycle of student life at E.H.S. is a continual and progressive wheel enabling each student to expand his horizons academically and socially.

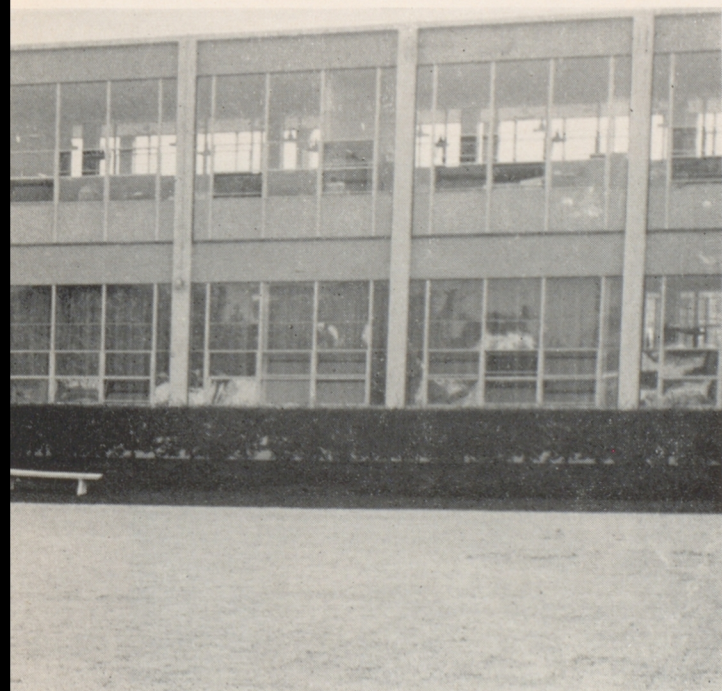

COVERS WIDE RANGE

Students enjoyed the "Harvest Moon."

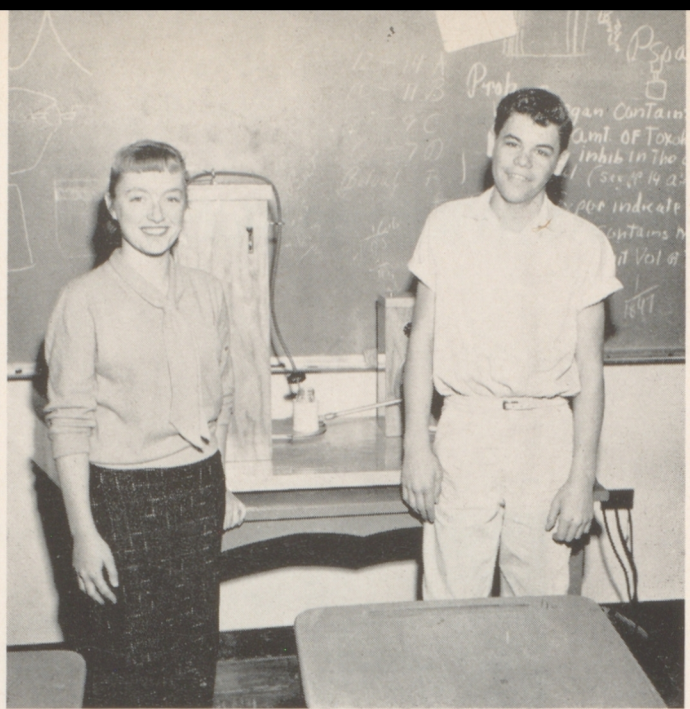

I hate to tell you this sonny, but . . .

I told you to put the nose on straight!

But that's what is said in the book.

THE TYPES OF

Encinal provides classes that meet the interests of all her students. The academic courses at E.H.S. consist of mathematics, sciences, history, foreign languages and English. These subjects afford to those students with stronger intellects a chance to widen their scope on the world.

Tea, anyone?

Physics students conducting important experiment.

Is that the way you do it?

When do we start cooking?

CLASSES VARY

For those students who are more skilled in manual arts and fine arts are shop, art, mechanic, and home-making classes. Students are thereby given an opportunity to express themselves, considering their desires and capabilities.

This is how our government is run?

Man, this is work!

Let's go! I'm ready.

EACH DAY PROVIDES

Many components of life at Encinal High tend to break the monotony of continuous study. Lunch hour is one of the most favored periods of the day. The faculty, as is seen in the picture above, seem to also enjoy a period of rest and relaxation.

I wasn't cuttin' in. Honest I wasn't.

A NEW EXPERIENCE

Along with this are the many experiences which occur in the driver training car, in Mr. Cotter's advisory, and in the library. Many such instances complete the daily life for students at Encinal High.

Mashed potatoes, pineapple tidbits, and a

So that's what they do in the library!

SPORTS AND ASSEMBLIES

Thundering with cheers, the students support their team at the games and at the rallies; their spirit illuminates the performance of the team and the capability of the cheerleaders.

Give me the beat, I said the beat,
Don't need no words, Don't need no tune. . .

Man—dig that combo.

DISPLAY ENCINAL SPIRIT

The assemblies are one of the most important facets of student life. They encourage togetherness and sportsmanship on stage as well as in the audience.

Togetherness Exemplified In Student Organizations

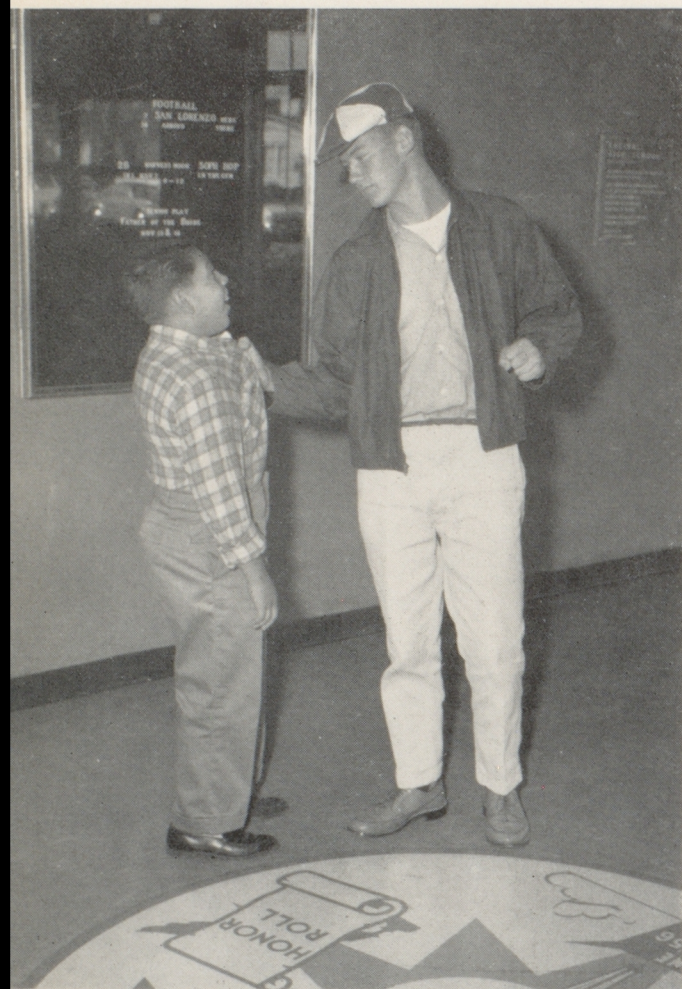

The students at E.H.S. work together in organized activities in order to satisfy their goals. Along with the sponsors they form a tight skein of cooperation and determination. To do the best in the best way possible has been a goal reached by E.H.S. student clubs and organizations.

But nurse, I have had my tonsils out.

TRADITION PLAYS IMPORTANT

The nurse, the Board of Control, the court-yards, the counselors, the Parent-Teacher As-sociation, and each student are important components of student life. Each does a job for the betterment of the school and the edu-cation and enjoyment of the students.

Lay off, or my big brother will get you!

Say, did you hear about what happened last night?

How about six of these, four with the green frosting, and two with the purple hearts on them?

PART IN STUDENT LIFE

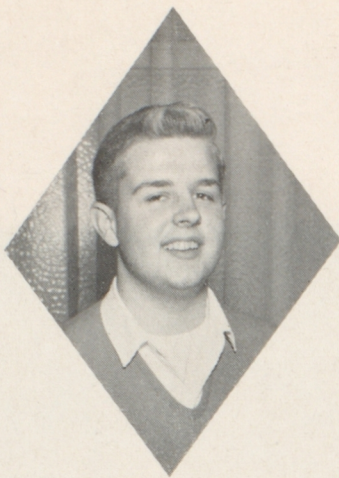

These are all signs of E.H.S. life. A boy looking into a classroom exemplifies the perennial curiosity of Encinal students. Their's is a life of education, laughter, and cooperation.

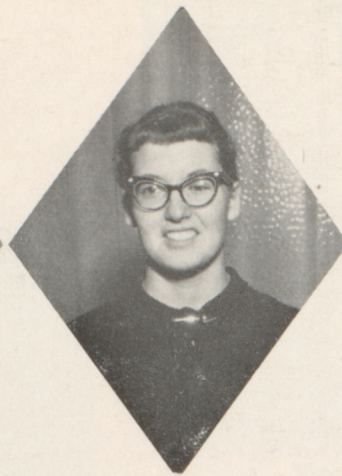

Who's been talking about me?

BANK OF AMERICA AWARD WINNERS

Dale Debold strikes up his prize winning form; the same one he used to win first place in the American Legion speech contest.

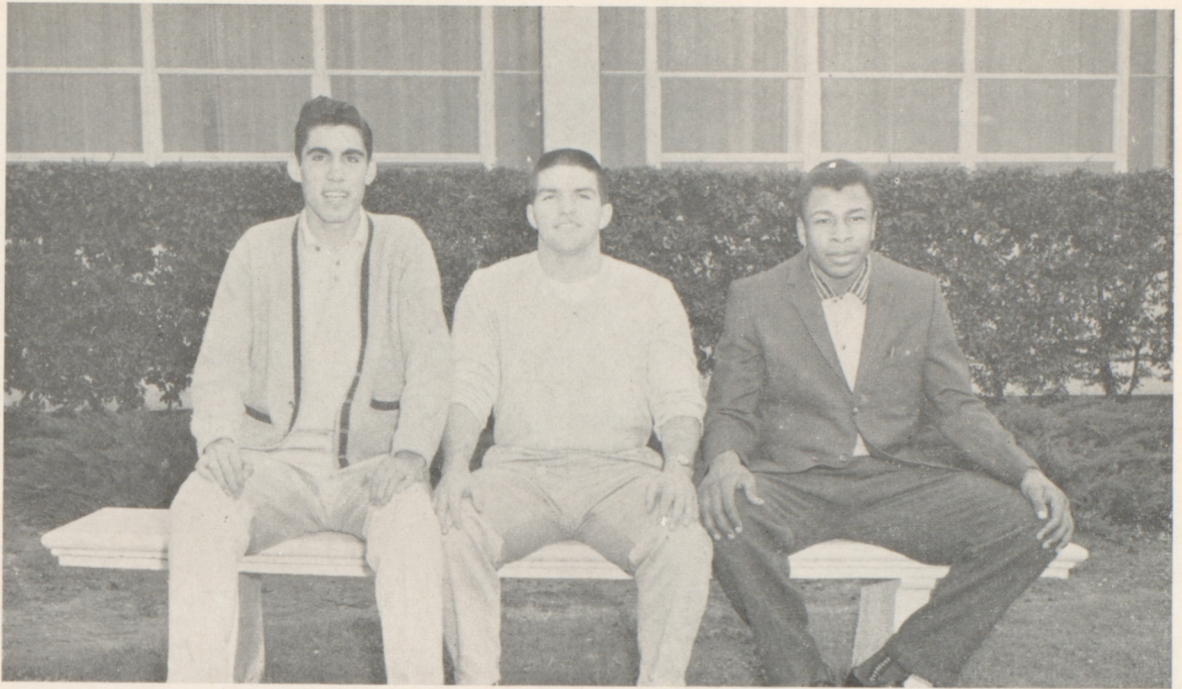

Judy Eliason, voted by her senior women classmates as the girl with the best citizenship, won the Daughters of the American Revolution good citizenship award.

ENCINAL STUDENTS ACHIEVE THEIR GOALS

Numerous contests present challenges to the many eligible students at E.H.S. Courage is demonstrated by those who enter, although all cannot win: nevertheless, these challenges are met and conquered—as shown by the pictures on these pages.

Harless, Pinion and Brackins were voted by Bay Area sports editors into the ACAL team for their ability in football.

Judy Bishop, Mary Appleyard, Mary Ann Dulle, and Dick Pinion represented Encinal High at the Optimist Youth Week.

Ralph Meuter and Karen Snyder represented Encinal at the Boys State and Girls State Conferences, respectively.

Bestowed upon the students especially skilled in certain fields are honors and awards, presented by such organizations as the Bank of America, the Daughters of the American Revolution, and other philanthropies.

Who was buried in Grant's tomb?

VARIETY OF CLASSES

Students have a variety of classes from which to choose. A student may expand his horizon of knowledge according to his capabilities. New and varied classes are continuously added to the ever-changing and increasing program of classes at EHS.

Lois Beard explains a collage to the 3B College Prep English class.

You move the slide rule to the left, the curser to the right, turn it over and . . .

Gee, twenty words a minute.

OFFERED TO STUDENTS

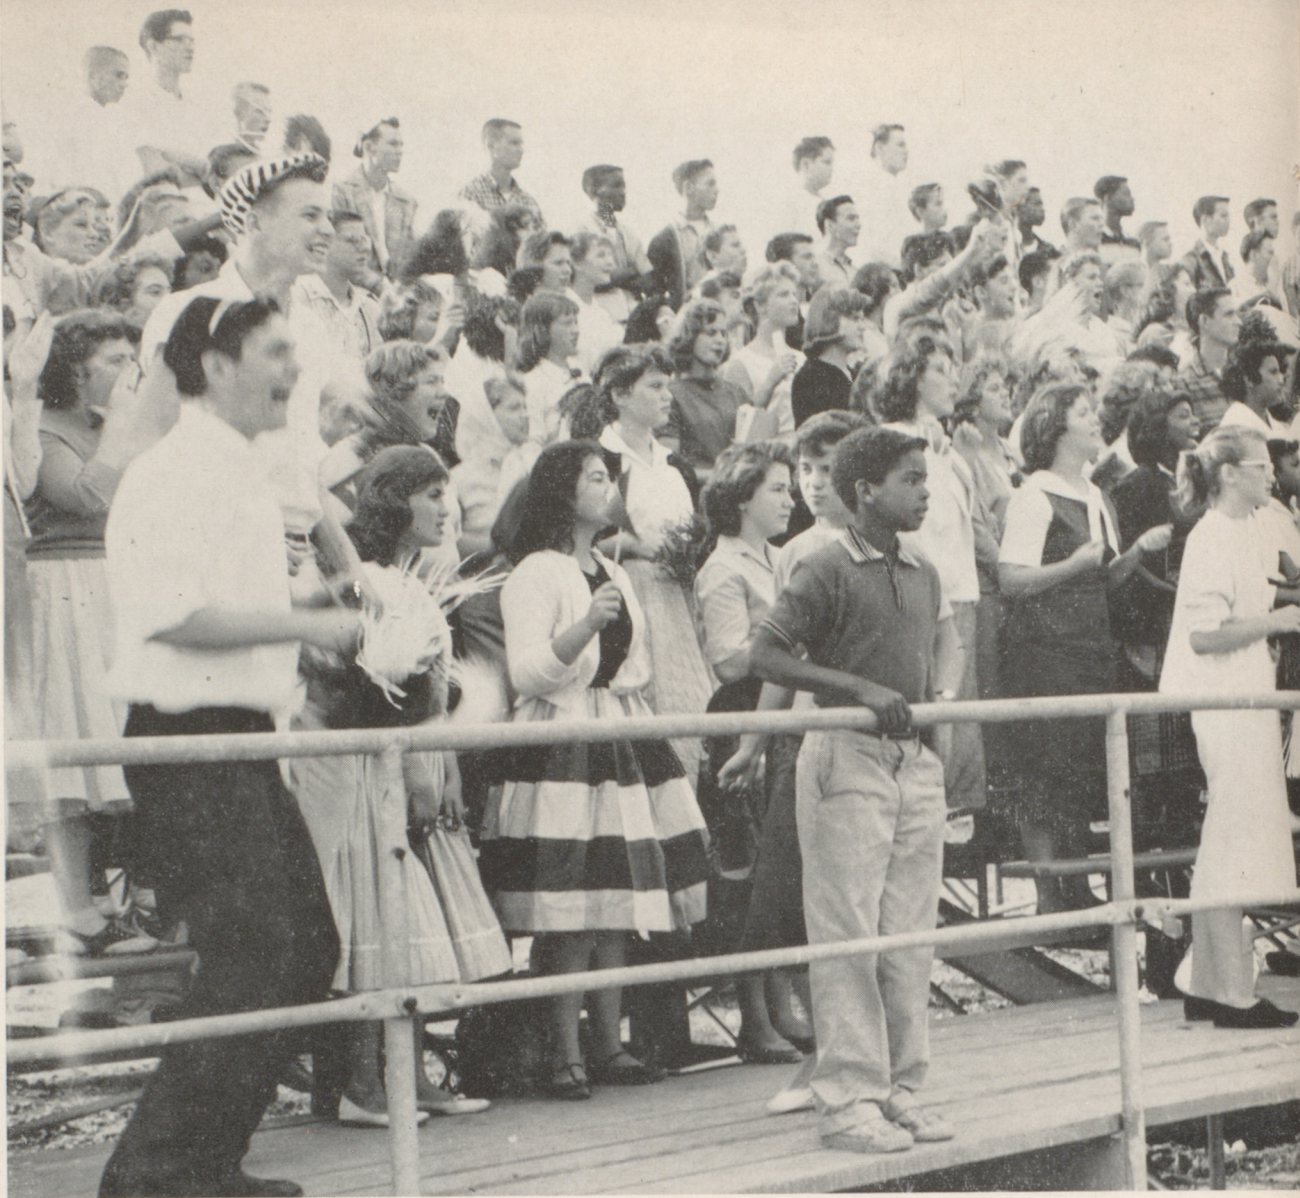

Experience gained from each class will in some way aid the student in his future years. He can benefit best from them by taking advantage of the variety of classes offered.

Ohhh! My finger.

You mean this machine has something to do with a car?

Encinal spirit is demonstrated in her rooting sections.

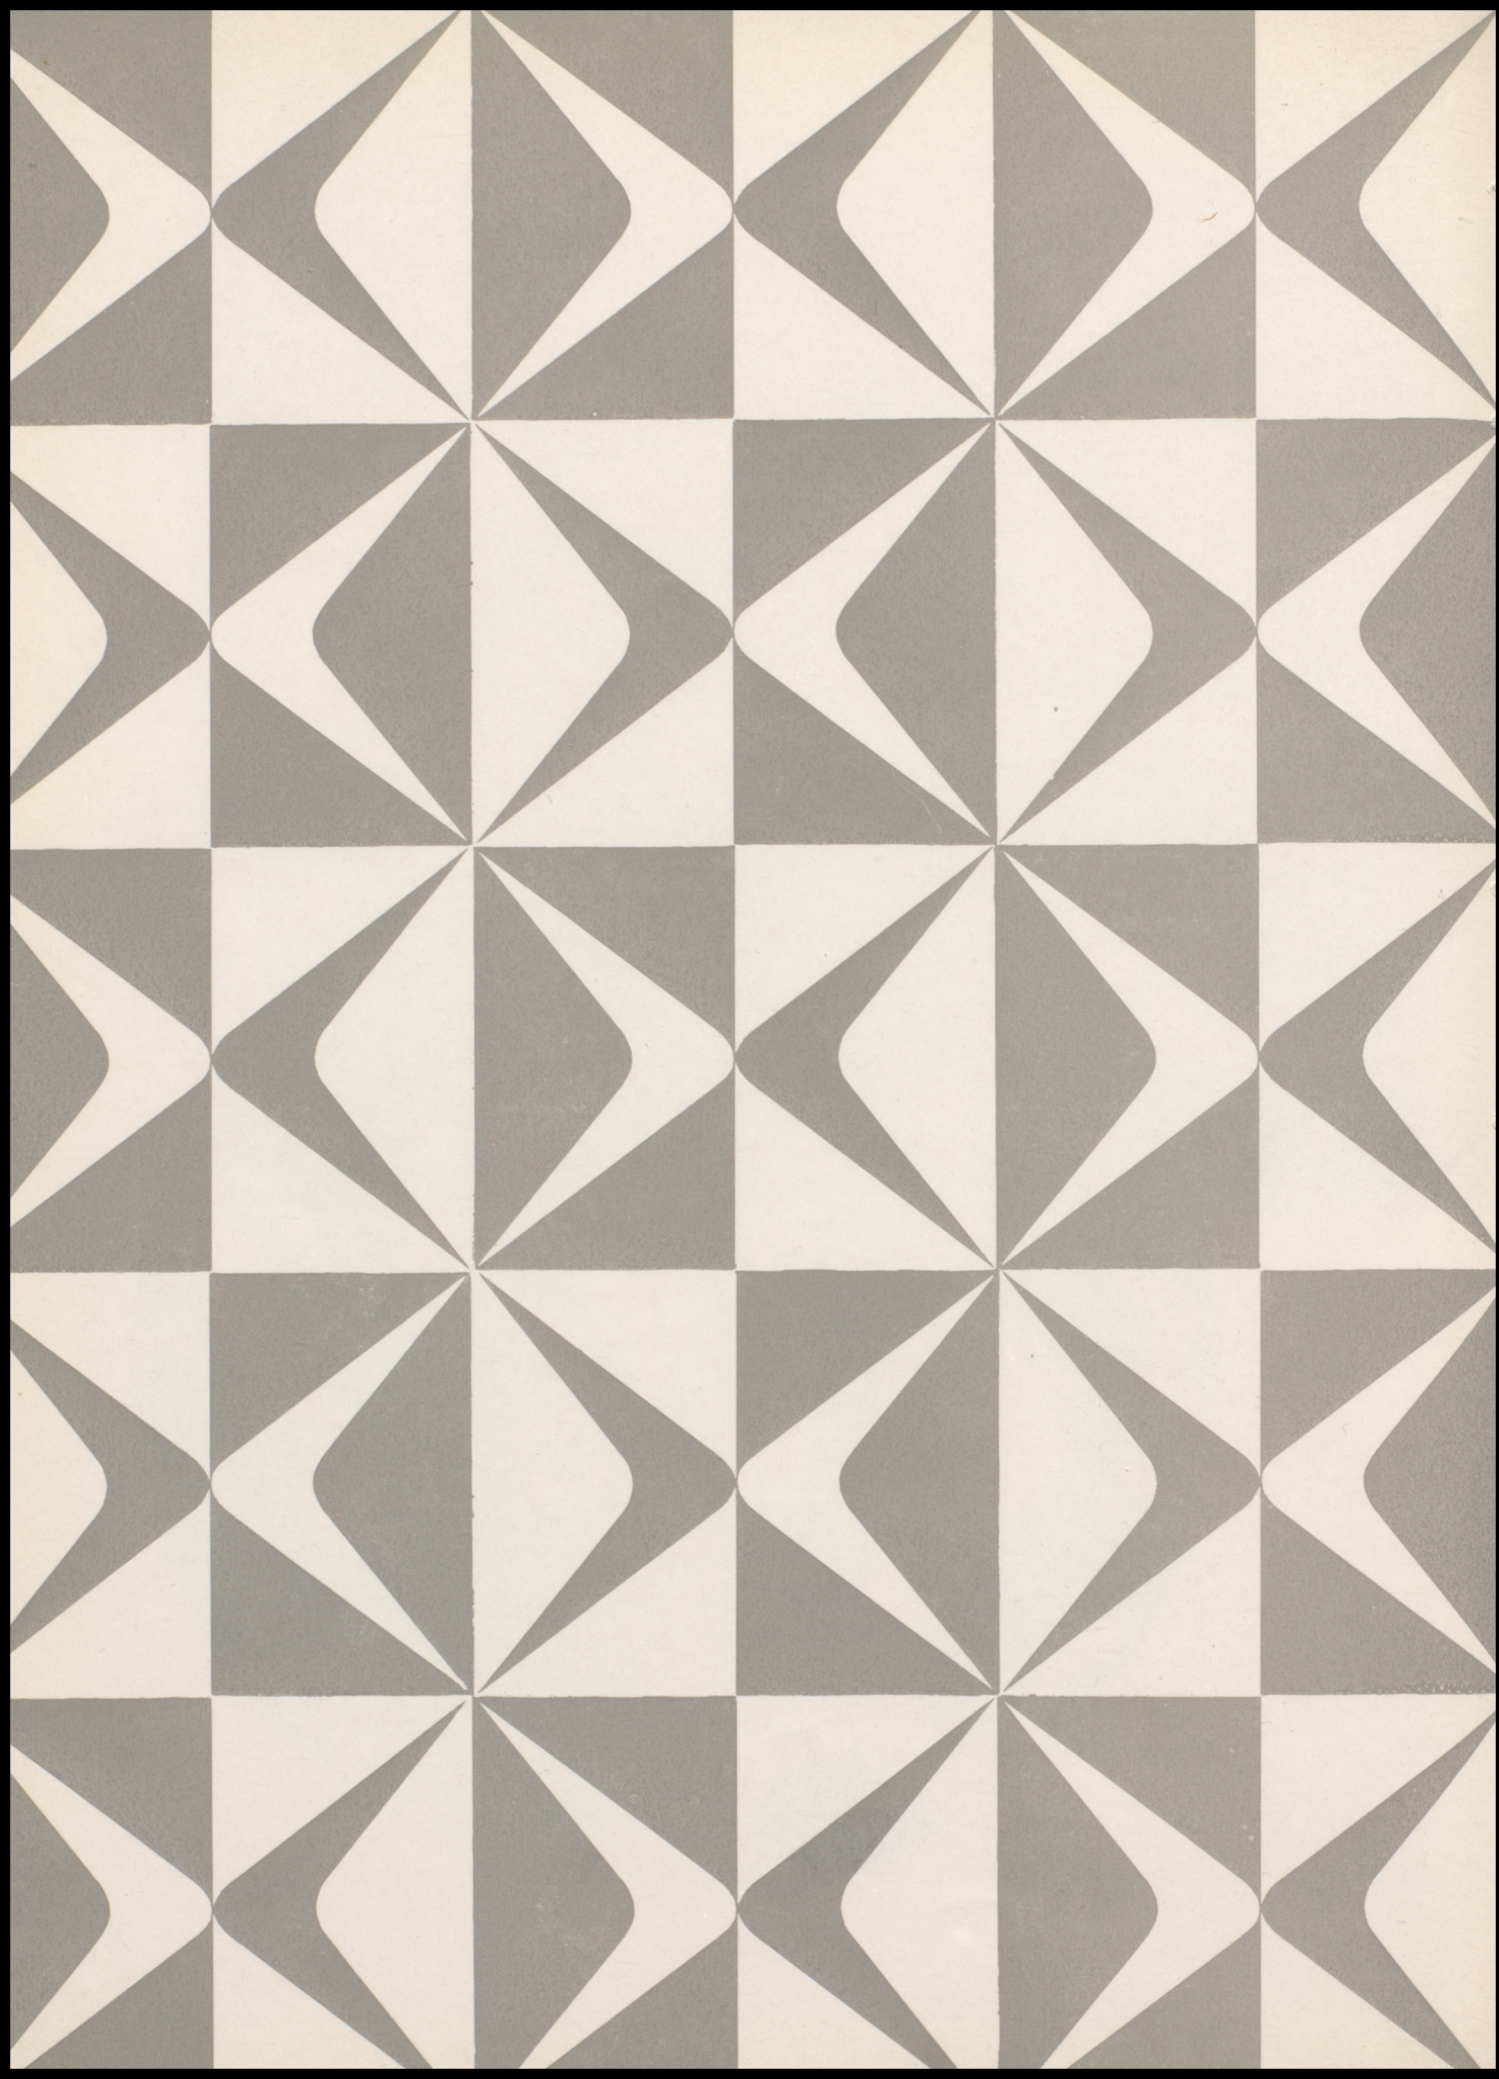

THE ACADEMIC YEAR ENDS TO BEGIN AGAIN

The wheel has completed its seventh revolution—the yearly cycle of dances, sports, academic and social functions has terminated its rounds: yet, with this culmination will come a new beginning. With these conclusions, with these beginnings, will come varying and exciting horizons—“a horizon is nothing save the limit of our sight.”

The flowery environment of the Junior Prom—"A Night to Remember"—enhanced the enjoyment of the dance.

ORGANIZATIONS

Organizations widen our scope beyond our personal interests. They give us the satisfaction of belonging, teach us to accept responsibilities as a group, and prepare us for higher forms of cooperation in later life. We learn to put our ideas into effect and to accept the ideas of others. As these ideas become united, we establish a common goal. We establish this goal by working together, thereby broadening our vista of thoughts and ideals.

Every Student Is Represented By Officers

Under the administration of the fall semester officers a student faculty assembly committee was formed designed to improve assembly entertainment.

Through Karen Snyder's excellent work as head cheerleader, we supported our football team bringing it into second place in the A.C.A.L. at the end of the semester.

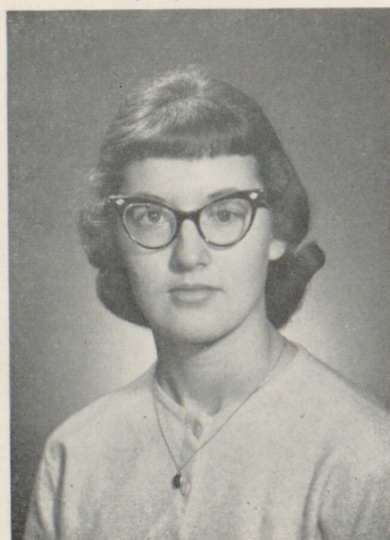

For the first time in two semesters a treasurer obtained 100% in student body card sales. Dale Debold used the P.A. System for a great deal of his campaign.

Valerie Lockhart, secretary for the fall semester, never failed to keep accurate and concise minutes.

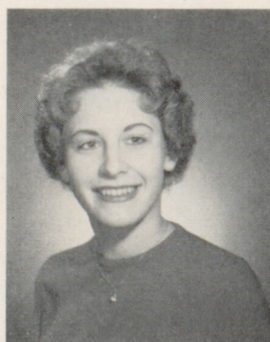

Wendy Worster served as the mistress of ceremonies during the varied assemblies, including the Christmas program.

Ralph Meuter, carrying out his functions as student body president, served as an excellent co-ordinator among the group of officers.

ENCINAL HIGH BREAKS TRADITION

For the first time in the short history of Encinal High School, a woman president presided over our student body meetings. Lynne Newman, Encinal's spring president, was the first to achieve this well deserved honor.

Another tradition was broken by the Class of June 1959. Gary Fenstermaker was elected to the office of secretary of the student body. He was the first male in the history of E.H.S. to hold this position.

Karen Snyder, Encinal's fall cheerleader, leads the student body in a game-winning yell.

Dale Debold sells Mr. Mell his student body card, making him an official member of the E.H.S. student body.

STUDENT COUNCIL SUGGESTS

Many changes were made by the Student Council members in their weekly meetings during the fall.

An opening dance was held in September to welcome the incoming freshmen.

In December the traditional Christmas baskets were made. Each member brought food for the needy.

A new and very successful method was used to pipe music into the cafeteria. The P.A. System was used for this, and the students enjoyed it thoroughly.

Student Council members discuss plans at a weekly meeting.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS IN SCHOOL

A new tradition was developed by the spring semester council members in the selecting of pins, which the officers will keep during their terms of office, and pass on to the officers succeeding them. The guards on the pins of the president and vice president consist of a gavel; the secretary, a quill; the treasurer, a dollar sign; and cheerleader, a megaphone. The body of the pin is a shield with the letters E.H.S.

The opening term dance, "Dream-Boat," sponsored by the council, was a well-attended mid-term event, although, for the first time, no new students entered E.H.S. at mid-term.

Our first male secretary at E.H.S., Gary Fenstermaker, is rapidly taking notes, trying to surpass his female predecessors.

BOARDS OF CONTROL

The chief counselor of the women's governing body at E.H.S. for the spring term was Arlene Koehler; the vice-chief counselor's position was held by Linda Walters. Under the supervision of these officials, and the sponsorship of Miss Wilson, the women's B.O.C. held its regular meetings, which included courts for the punishment of rule violators. Some of the special services which this group performs for E.H.S. include: patrolling halls and maintaining order at games and assemblies.

During the spring term, this group originated a novel idea to raise funds for the school by sponsoring a dill pickle sale.

MAINTAIN GOOD REPUTATION AT E.H.S.

The Men's B.O.C., sponsored by Dr. Snell, has maintained a reputation of which the students of Encinal may be proud.

During the past two semesters, Dennis Tymn and Art Sanchez served as chief counselors. Although the duties have not been easy, they were efficiently carried out under the leadership of these counselors. A few of their duties are patrolling the halls, monitoring the library and cafeteria, and serving at assemblies where they "pass the gum basket." They also perform many other controlling services for the school.

C.S.F. MEMBERS HOLD RESPECT OF STUDENTS

The C.S.F. has made great progress and continued to maintain the respect of students at E.H.S. This year, under the sponsorship of Mr. Winberg who has been the chapter advisor for four years, many students have received countless benefits from this organization.

A tutoring program, designed to aid students outside of the organization, has been supported mainly by Lynne Newman. Dale Debold, president of C.S.F. for the past two semesters, has also served as a tutor.

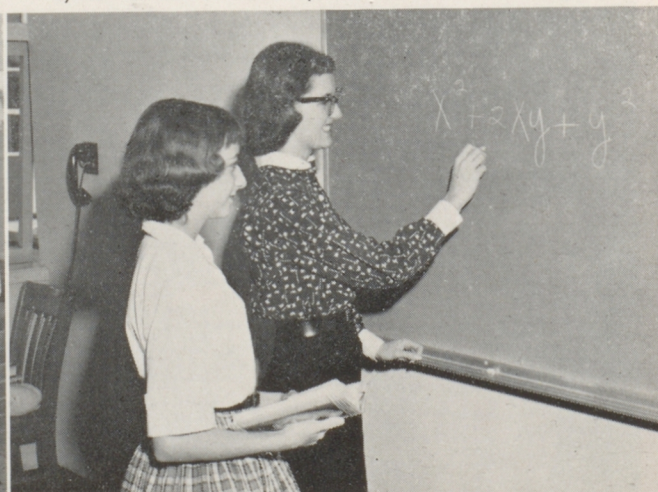

Sixteen members toured the U.C. campus attending lectures, which added to their knowledge of college life. Many members also attended the annual convention held at San Jose.

The C.S.F. held their annual Christmas and Easter cookie sales, designed to build up the treasury.

C.S.F. officers: Lynne Newman, Dale Debold, Judy Eliason, Carolyn Bossi, and Mary Appleyard.

Lynne Newman serves as a private tutor for Laurie Slangerup.

HONOR STUDENTS SELECT PINS

Officers: Mary Howland, Carolyn Bossi, Roberta Cassel and Jeanne Stull.

The Sigma Epsilon honor society, sponsored by Mrs. Puente, has followed through with the tradition of selecting pins for its members. The pins have a blue enamel background engraved with a gold E. On the top of the pin is a "Lamp of Learning," also in gold. The guard selected by each student individually, consists of either the year of graduation, or a representative figure for an office held by the student.

Officers elected for the spring term were Maurine Jenkins, Rita Schutty, Diane Silva, and Ray Love.

KEY CLUB SERVES SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY

Members of the Key Club, sponsored by Mr. Bartley, were an extremely active group this year. They have developed an outstanding reputation in our community.

A car wash was held at the east end of Alameda, which was very successful. The proceeds were used to buy food for the needy at Christmas.

The club, under the presidency of Elbert Humphers, nearly doubled its membership. Spring president, Steve Capling, served during the successful annual candy sale, which was designed to raise funds for charity.

The slave sale was held in the spring. Each member participating is auctioned off to work a whole day for the highest bidder. His salary is used for charitable purposes.

FRANCE IS SEEN THROUGH ITS ROMANTIC LANGUAGE

The French Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Dungan, furthered its knowledge of France and its language by singing French songs and playing games. Spring officers were elected which included: President, Holly Griffith; Vice President, Maxine Jordan; Secretary, Carol Freeman; and Treasurer, Mary Wimberley.

FRENCH CLUB—FIRST ROW: P. Mason, G. Winton, V. Harris, J. Poykko, B. Mundt, C. Freeman, Miss Dungan. SECOND ROW: M. Howland, V. Merrick, B. Wiltz, M. Jordan, S. White, C. Alexander, J. Spring Officers: Ken Burr, Lillian Anovich, and Carl Fonoimoana.

Fall Officers: Carlene Yasak, Karen Clausen, Bonnie Cottingham, Harriet Crawford, and Bill Stull.

LATIN CLUB BRINGS BACK OLD ROME

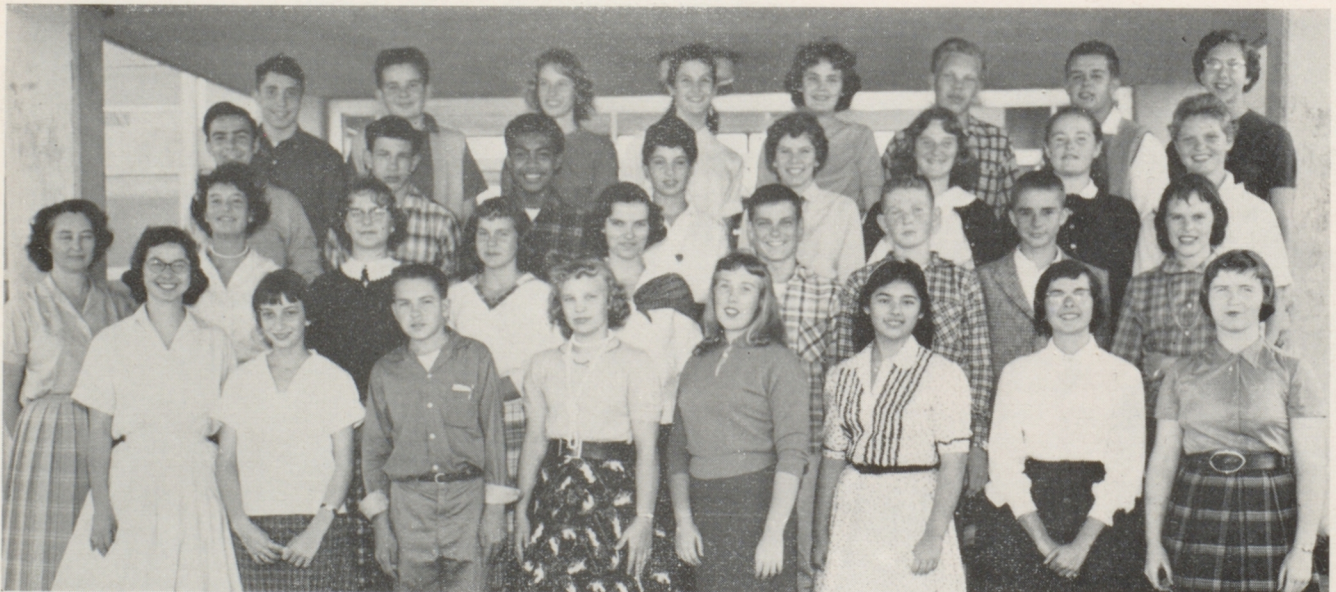

The highlight of Latin Club activities was the Latin Banquet. This organization, sponsored by Mrs. Hegeman, succeeded in reproducing the atmosphere of Old Rome.

Members were dressed in togas and the decorations included ivy, Roman columns, and flowers.

The special feature of the evening was the presentation of a play written by Patty Parker, a second year Latin student.

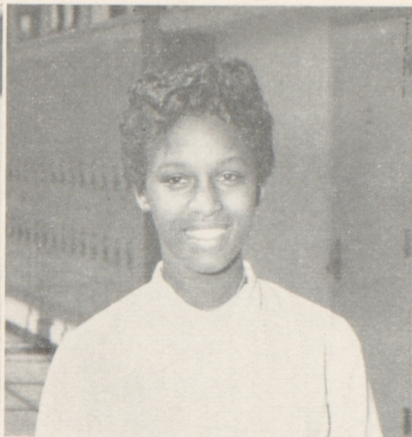

Meetings also featured plays given alternately by first and second year Latin students, and often included the alumni.

ECHO STAFF KEEPS STUDENTS INFORMED

Students of E.H.S. realize and appreciate the excellent work done by the Echo staff this year. The students are informed as to the activities, including game scores, dances, and reviews of assemblies.

The staff, under the supervision of Mr. Rielly, edits a paper twice monthly.

The staff cartoonist, Bill Mattsson, entered his cartoon in the tuberculosis contest, a safety program sponsored by the Green Cross, and took second place.

Mr. Rielly instructs the Echo staff on writing techniques.

THESPIAN TROUPE IMPROVES DRAMATIC ABILITY

The Thespian Troupe, sponsored by Mr. Cotter, has had outstanding success in developing its dramatic ability.

A play was given for an assembly in the spring, which was a pantomime narrated by Dale Debold, treasurer of the group. The play, "Little Sally," featured Roberta Quail, Don Scott, and David Young. Because of its outstanding success in school, it was requested to be repeated at the Alameda Adelthian Society.

THEIR INTEREST IN SCIENCE IS PROUDLY SHOWN

Many members of the Science Club have shown an ever increasing interest in various scientific fields. Ten members of this active group visited Valacetus. They toured the home of the atomic reactor, and were lectured on its various parts and functions.

Many advanced students entered exhibits in the Bay Area Science Fair held at the Academy of Science. Four experiments were conducted by "Skip" Kasdorf, Don Taylor, Ray Gill, Jerry Alexander, Carol Freeman, and Jeanne Weitzenfeld, under the excelent tutorage of Mr. Urton.

FUTURE TEACHERS' ACTIVITIES VARY

The Future Teachers Club has been one of the most active groups at school during the past year. The activities have included sales, panel discussions, conferences, and the observing of grammar school classes.

During the fall semester, a cupcake sale was sponsored by this group. Programs were also sold at numerous football games.

Ten members of this very active group attended a conference at the Pleasanton Hotel. Attending this combination banquet and conference were members of I.F.F. clubs from all over the East Bay.

In April another conference was held at Chico State College. Members from Encinal and Alameda High Schools held a faculty-student panel discussion on teaching.

Grammar school classes were observed by a few members of this group, and reports were given to the remaining students as to the methods of teaching in these schools.

Members of the Future Teachers Club sell programs at a football game, raising funds for their treasury.

JR. RED CROSS CONTINUES WORK

The members of the Junior Red Cross, under the sponsorship of Miss Sibley, continued to dedicate themselves to working on projects that aid both school and community.

Each semester a student who wishes to join from each advisory is given an opportunity to lend his ideas and time to this worthy organization.

Officers: J. Weitzenfeld, B. Cottingham, D. Evans, M. Warren.

CHEERLEADERS CLUB ENCOURAGES GAME ATTENDANCE

Cheerleaders take time out from raising school spirit. P. Stefani, G. Underhill, D. Scott, T. Norberg, J. Jackson, K. Snyder, J. LeMoine.

The members of the Cheerleaders' Club have endeavored to bring game attendance to a higher level this semester by devoting their time and talent at noon rallies and practices after school.

Karen Snyder, fall head cheerleader, and her assistants gave personal instruction to those students who wished to become cheerleaders. The pom-pom girls also gave instruction to those students who wished to become cheerleaders. The pom-pom girls also gave instruction to interested girls.

The Cheerleaders clinic, held March 14th, was open to any student who wished to attend. There, the students learned new yells, and were taught how to present them.

Pom-pom girls wait at goal post for an expected touchdown. M. Howland, G. Hicks, R. Schutty, W. Johnson, L. Beard, J. Warren, D. Silva, B. Padgett.

The Choir carols through the halls, bringing joy not only for the approaching Christmas season, but also for the anticipation of Christmas vacation.

STUDENTS PROVIDE MUSICAL ENJOYMENT

The Dance Band, under the direction of Mr. D'Amante, provided musical enjoyment for many groups this semester. The band traveled to elementary schools and played for assemblies. The group also played for the Senior play, as they do each semester.

A new student, Joy Williams, sang with the band in the spring, adding exceptional talent to the group.

The E.H.S. dance band formed by Mr. D'Amante plays a number. FIRST ROW: G. Sanders, D. Reynolds, R. Gladwell, K. Pitman, C. Brown. SECOND ROW: R. Fields, C. Graef, E. AcMoody, J. Silva. Drums: C. Baca, J. Ronald. Piano: J. Berry.

STUDENTS SHOW ACTIVE INTEREST IN MUSIC

The music club, Chi Mu, is a comparatively young organization. However, the music students have shown an expanding interest in it.

Membership pins were selected, which are triangular, and have a dark center with an "E" and "Chi Mu" printed on them.

A pot luck dinner, which will be an annual event, was held in April.

A continuing interest in jazz is plainly shown, as the club promoted more jazz assemblies.

Officers: R. Gladwill, J. Eliason, D. Robinson, and G. Sanders.

Chi Mu members phone jazz celebrity for an assembly.

BAND PROUDLY REPRESENTS E.H.S.

The E.H.S. marching band has represented our school in many events during the fall and spring semesters. The band attended football games and made appearances at Longfellow and Washington elementary schools.

All other instrumental groups at school have originated from this group. At affairs such as concerts, the marching band became a concert band.

Forty-four of the high school band members relax on front lawn between numbers.

CHOIR, ENCINETTES PERFORM FOR STUDENT BODY

The A Cappella Choir is the selected vocal class at Encinal. Under the direction of Mr. Gaunt, they performed for the Christmas program, second Annual Spring Concert, school assemblies and various other occasions. Selections the Choir performed throughout the year ranged from light works by Rodgers and Hammerstein to the exceptional vocal repertoire of Palestrina. Several Choir members were a part of the 1,500 voice chorus at the College of the Pacific Music Clinic.

The Encinettes is a vocal ensemble consisting of nine outstanding girl vocalists. During the year they performed for the Annual Christmas Program, P.T.A. meetings, and various Alameda civic organizations.

FIRST ROW: B. Padgett, C. Yasak. SECOND ROW: D. Haughin, M. Ammons, M. Howland, S. Harkins. THIRD ROW: L. Roles, C. Brown, G. Hicks, R. Dodt.

GROUPS FILL SCHOOL WITH HARMONY

The Mixed Chorus and the Girls' Glee studied a varied program throughout the year. In addition to singing songs they learned some of the techniques of voice production, studied music fundamentals, and developed the ability to write music. Some members of the Girls' Glee even took a hand at composing songs.

G.A.A. LEARNS MORE ABOUT SPORTS

The object of the Girls Athletic Association is to encourage girls to participate in sports and to improve their abilities in this field.

The "May Mixer," a day set aside for inter-school competition, taught the girls from Encinal and other schools much about the strength of their opponents.

The year's activities terminated with the annual picnic held in May at Lake Temescal.

Other girls taking seventh period sports are being taught tennis skills by Mrs. Snyder.

GIRLS ASSOCIATION MAKES CHANGES

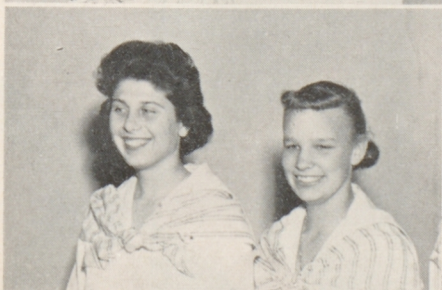

A change was made in the structure of the Girls' Association during the spring term, which strengthened this organization. A representative from each advisory attended G.A. Council meetings and discussed future plans of the group.

A great variety of entertainment, including the advanced modern dance class, was presented at G.A. meetings during the fall and spring semesters.

The annual fashion show, the final event of the year, was held during school time rather than after school, which assured the attendance of every member.

VARSITY GRIDDERS LOSE ONLY TWO GAMES

The 1958 Encinal High School Varsity football team was very successful. Compiling an overall record of seven wins and two losses, the Jets, under Head Coach Jim Marberry lost only one more game than the 1957 Varsity.

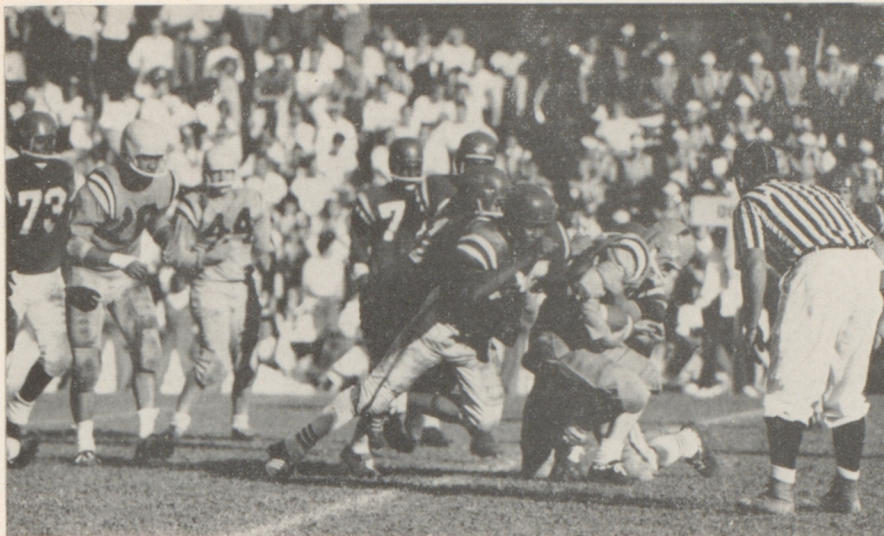

The first team to fall before the Jets was Alameda, the cross-town rival; the score was 20-14. In this game, with the score 13-14, Mike Jaramillo dropped back and threw a strike to Willie Brackins who legged the ball into the end zone. Encinal played one night game, which was on September 26, played on the home field of Vallejo High School. The score was 13-2. The dates of October 3, 10, and 17, brought three more victories. These were Jefferson (S.F.), 25 to 12; South San Francisco, 19 to 13; and Hayward, 33 to 21. The Jets ran into trouble in the next two games, losing to Castro Valley, 12 to 20; and San Leandro, 13 to 26. The Jets then beat San Lorenzo, 20 to 19; and Arroyo, 33 to 26 to round out the season. This record put Encinal in second place in the S.A.C.A.L.

J.V. AND FROSH SHOW PROMISE

With most of the Varsity football team graduating, Coach Marberry will go into the J.V.'s and produce some very fine talent. Although the J.V.'s didn't have an outstanding record, they played hard and showed that they had potential. An exceptional job was done by Coaches Read and Matula in training the boys to be Varsity athletes. The frosh gridders, under Coach Foster, also had their problems, being beaten by a slim margin several times. However, there was fine talent discovered here, too. These frosh players will constitute most of the J.V. eleven next year.

ENCINAL RUNNERS EXCEL IN FIRST SEASON

A new sport, cross-country, was introduced to Encinal High School this fall. This event consists of a two-mile obstacle course in which the lowest score wins. The Varsity competitors came up with a six win, six loss record. The victories were at the expense of the following teams: San Lorenzo, 20-35; Castro Valley, 23-32; Arroyo, 27-28; Alameda, 16-46; Arroyo, 26-29; and Alameda, 24-31. The Frosh-Soph runners compiled a three win, four loss record. The victories were over the following: San Lorenzo, 15-40; Castro Valley, 26-29; and Alameda, 18-45. Although the Frosh team didn't quite have a mark equal to that of the Varsity, they did manage to come up with a first place award in the All-A.C.A.L. meet. Denny Kaleva, John Warren, Ray Bagby, and Frank Lawson took the four places for Encinal.

VARSITY CAGERS WIN MAJORITY OF GAMES

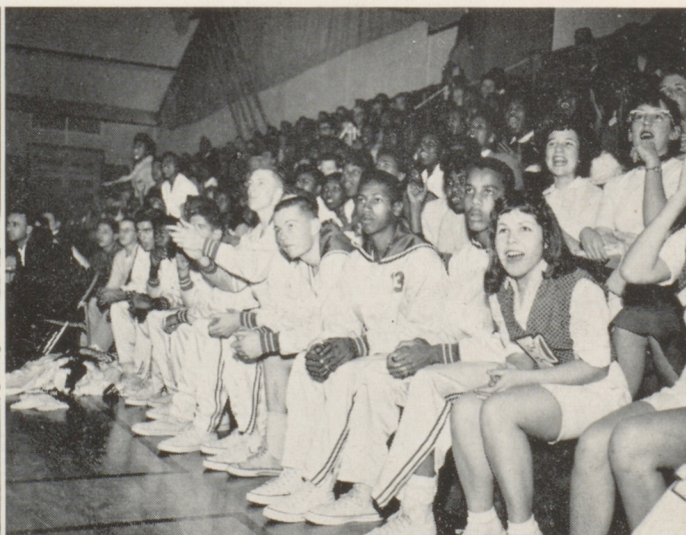

The Encinal High Varsity basketball team, under Coach Dick Jaensch, compiled an overall record of 15 wins and nine losses during the season. Despite the fact that the Jets lost many of their last games, they managed to maintain a winning record.

Ed Correll, Willie Brackins and James Loggins were the mainstays of the team, however, they were graduated in the middle of the season. Although Jerry Shaw and Sonny James were brought up from the J.V.'s, they could not assume the high scoring of the taller graduates.

J.V. AND FROSH TEAMS DEVELOP SKILLS

The J.V.'s, under Coach Paul Foster, had a less successful season than the Varsity, completing an overall record of 10 wins, 12 losses, and a league record of five wins and seven losses. Most of the J.V. athletes of this year will be competing in Varsity play next year.

The Frosh team, under Coach Jim Marberry, also had its problems, however managed to come up with a satisfactory record of seven wins and eight losses. These athletes will be competing in J.V. or possibly Varsity play next season.

JET VARSITY AMAZES SPORTSWRITERS

Due to an early deadline, the Horizon was not able to cover the last four games. Up to this point, the Varsity had compiled a league record of six wins and three losses. The losses were to Harry Ells, 2-1; Berkeley, 5-1; and El Cerrito, 2-0. The wins were over the following teams: El Cerrito, 3-2; De Anza, 7-2; Alameda, 2-1; Richmond, 4-3; Harry Ells, 3-0; and De Anza, 4-0. The remaining games were with Richmond, Alameda, Berkeley, and St. Vincents. The Jets were picked by the sportswriters to finish near the bottom of the league. With the excellent pitching from Charles Harless, Tom White, and Jerry Shaw, however, the team is in third place as of May 11, 1959. No matter what happens in the remaining games, the Varsity will compile an excellent record.

J.V. NINE DEMONSTRATES TALENT

The J.V. Baseball team, with Coach Matula at the helm, compiled a seasonal record of seven wins and ten losses (up to press time). Much credit must go to Coach Bernadou, who ably substituted for Coach Matula during his absence. This team should place a few of the players on next year's Varsity nine, including Bob Perata and Bob Miranda who got Varsity experience this year.

"A" TRACK WINS 10 STRAIGHT MEETS

The Varsity track team, with training from Coaches Cadwell and Jaensch, swept ten straight meets at the beginning of the season. This was due to the fine talent received from the champion "B" team of a year ago. The scores are as follows: Hayward, 71-41; Pittsburgh, 58-55; Acalanes, 60-53; San Leandro, 64-49; San Lorenzo, 68-45; Berkeley, 60 1/3-51 2/3; Alameda, 87 1/2-25 1/2; Tech, 56-49; Ells, 70-43; De Anza, 67 1/4-45 3/4; El Cerrito, 54-59; Richmond, 51-62.

Some of the best times and jumps this year were recorded by Maurice Williams, James Carter, Fred Williams, Dennis Tymn, Dennis Chavez, Hercules Pritchard, Clarence Conley, and Andy Brown.

John Stulgis clears the bar as C. Conley, D. Kaleva, C. James, and A. Brown look on.

"B" TRACKMEN COP LEAGUE CROWN

For the second straight year, the "B" Track team took first place in the All-A.C.A.L. meet. In league play, the Jets compiled a dual meet record of seven wins and five losses. Coaches Cadwell and Jaensch did an excellent job in training the athletes to lead the league. Some outstanding "B"s were as follows: Harry Macias, George Carlos, Emmett Littlejohn, Maurice O'Connell, and Walt Kidd.

GIRLS' P.E. DEPT. OFFERS

The girls' P.E. classes have discovered two new games to play. One is a novel way of playing volleyball called "Volley-Tennis"; the other is a brand new game called "Pin-Ball." For those who aren't interested in learning new games, there are the usual sports, basketball, softball, volleyball, etc., available.

"South Shore, here it comes."

"I'm a little tea pot."

SPORTS VARIETY

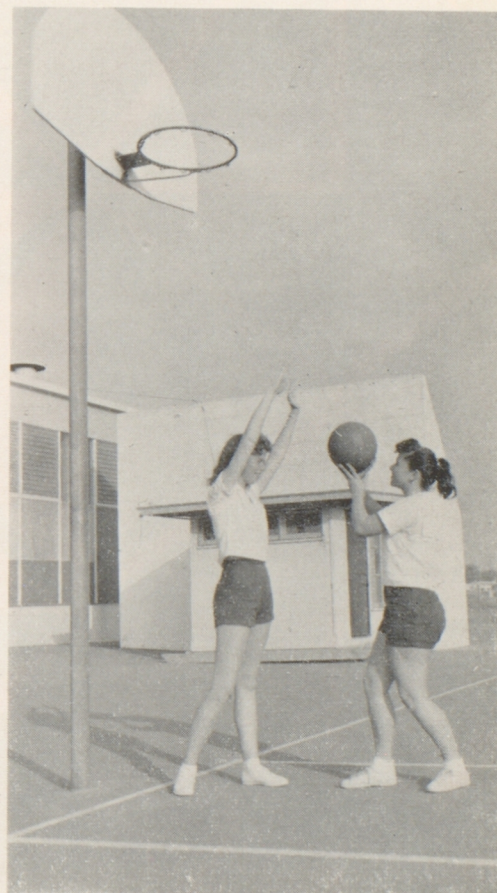

"Encinal Rain Dance."

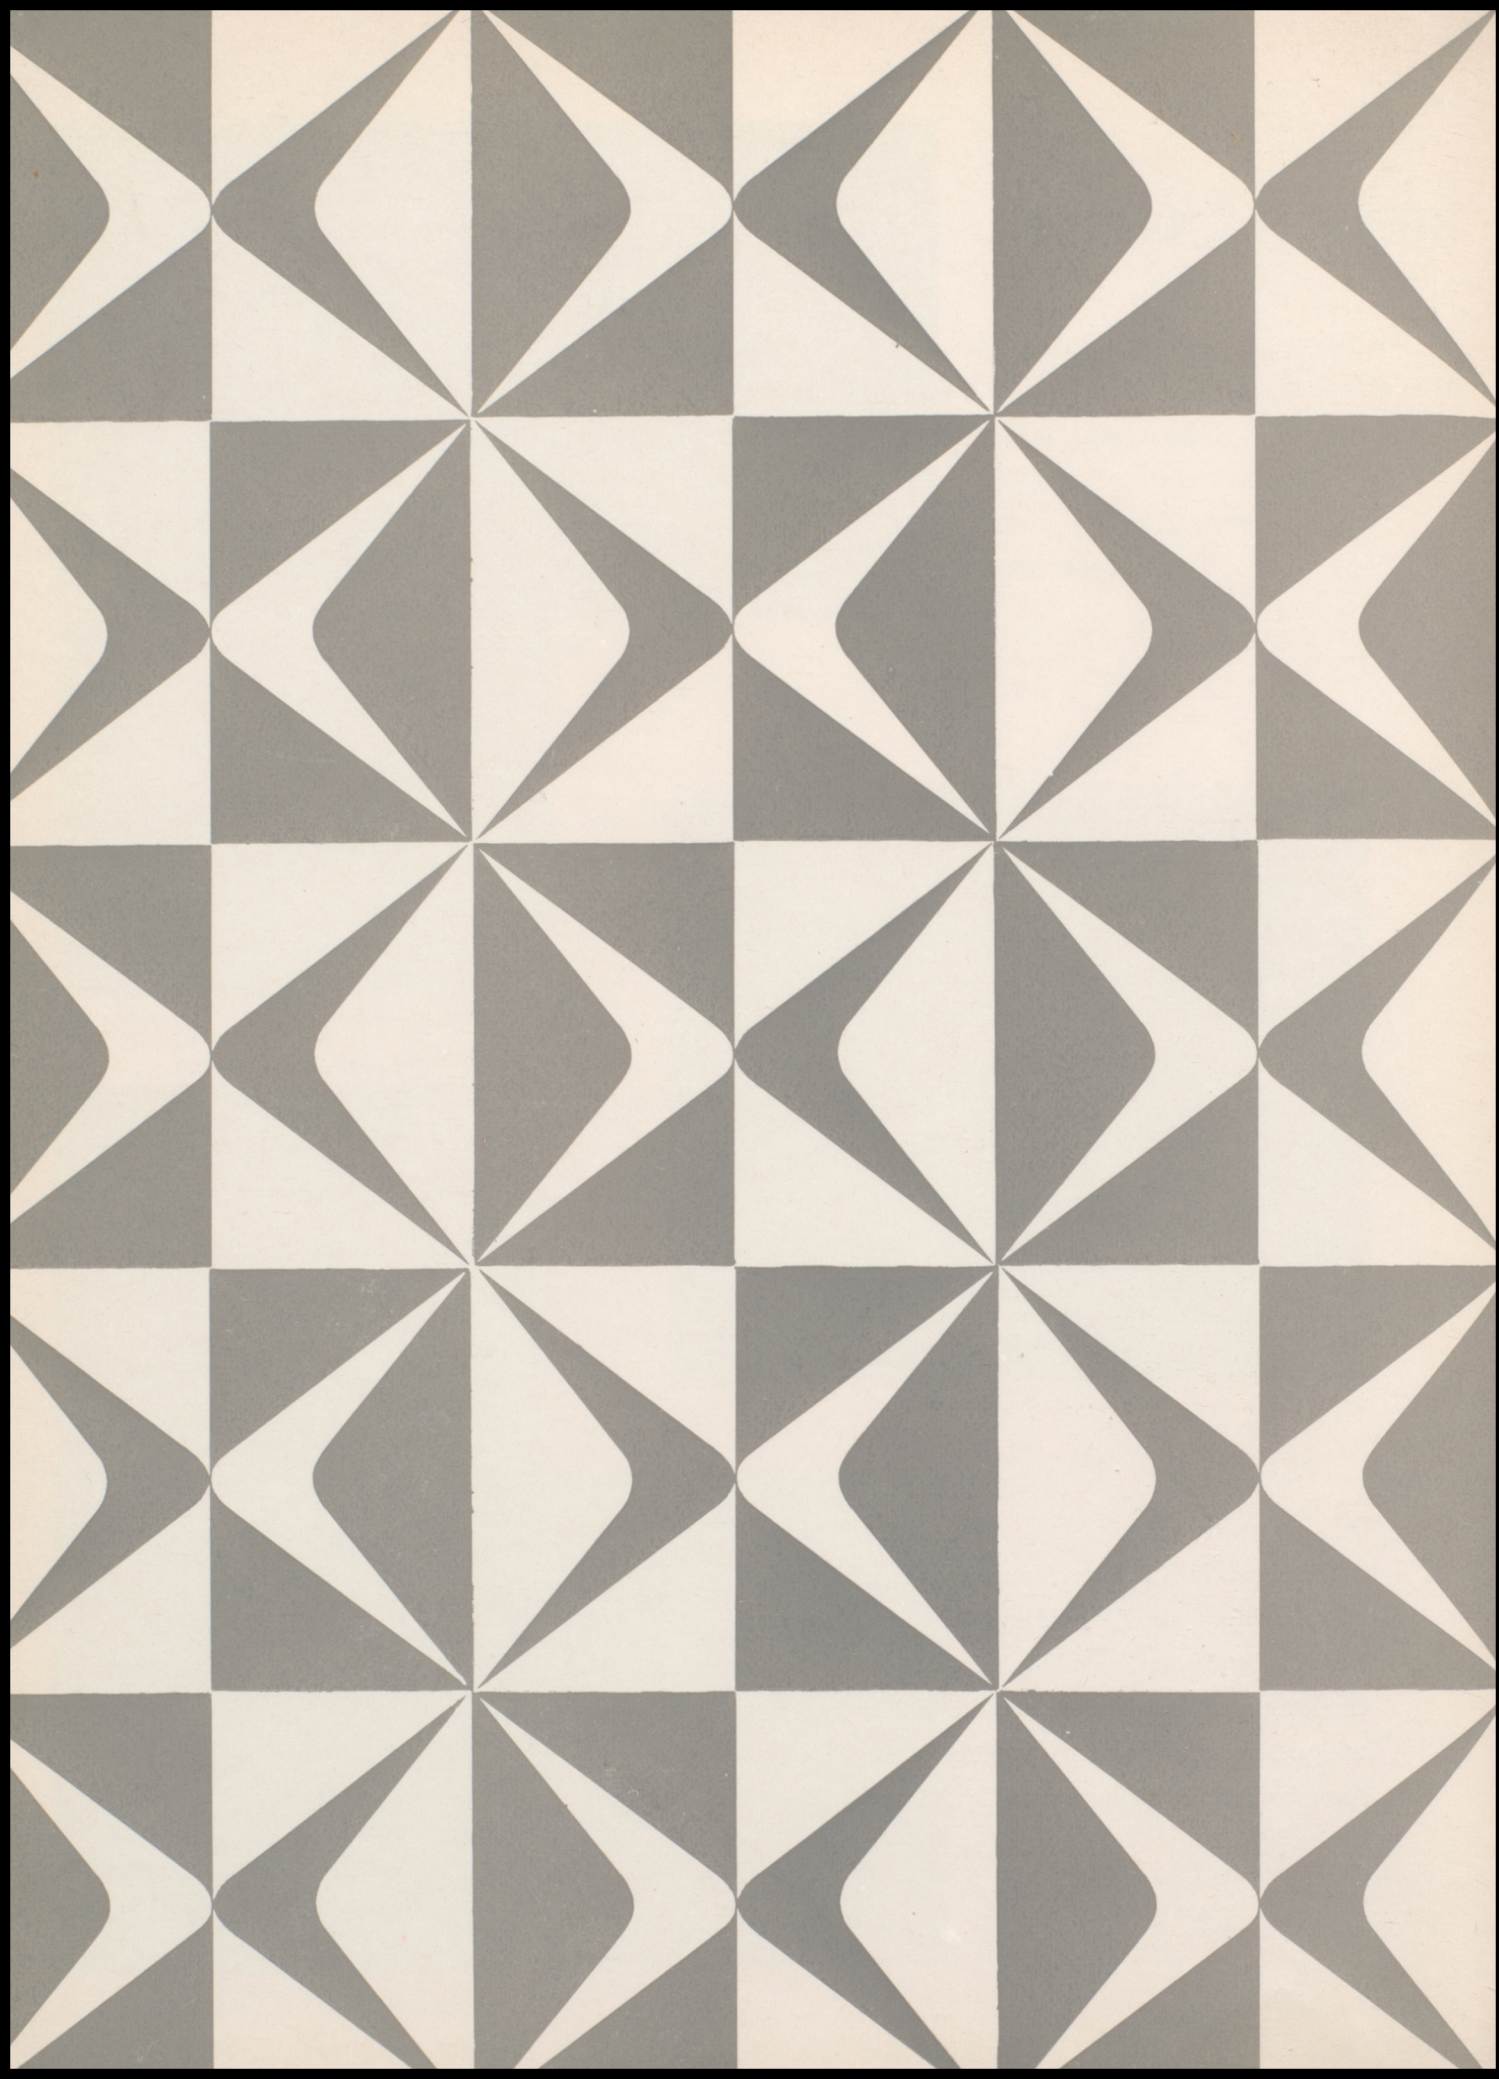

"Future Davis Cup Champions?"

Some girls at E.H.S. prefer a more graceful way of spending their P.E. classes—Modern Dance. Mrs. Phyllis Snyder, spending her first year at Encinal, entered her classes into the full swing of things. Some of the girls participated in the Talent Assembly and the spring Senior Play, "The Fighting Littles."

In your first job...

it's the little things that count

Making new friends, interesting work, pleasant surroundings and being helped by a friendly supervisor, and lots more . . .

BEING PART OF THE TELEPHONE
TEAM MEANS:

Working with fellows and girls your own age . . .

Earning good pay right from the start . . .

Enjoying many "plus values" including—paid vacations, regular raises, a liberal benefit plan, and advancement opportunities too . . .

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The 1959 HORIZON was produced in collaboration with:

Alameda Times-Star Press
Don Bosco Photography Studio
California Art and Engraving
S. K. Smith Company

The members of the yearbook staff wish to express their appreciation to the following persons from whom they received assistance:

Mr. Lowell Mell for his cooperation with the staff and for his aid in securing dates for picture scheduling

Miss Jean Wilson for her availability whenever we needed her

Miss Marilyn Hey for her advice to the various editors and her encouraging confidence in our entire staff

Mr. Clarence Kline for his willingness to supplement the pictures of our commercial photographer

Mrs. Marian Nicosia for her advice to the art editor and to the staff

Mr. Bob Moon of California Art and Engraving for his recommendations which improved our book and for his friendly attitude which inspired our editors.

Mr. Bud Bosco for his patience while rushing our pictures through to meet deadlines

Mr. Marc Schowalter and the other members of the Times-Star Press for a careful and accurate printing job

Mr. Ralph Buckwalter of the S. K. Smith Company for the prompt work on our covers

The Faculty for their help with picture identifications and cooperative attitude during picture days

Members of the student body for their assistance throughout the year

Mr. Reilly and the ECHO staff for the publicity in each issue of the ECHO

Office Staff for the use of telephones and for their help in the identification of pictures

The advertisers whose financial support made our book a reality
